

Bucknell University, Department of Chemistry, Open Rank, Tenure Track Faculty Position in Biochemistry

The Department of Chemistry at Bucknell University invites applications for an open-rank, tenure-track faculty position in biochemistry to begin August 2018. The successful candidate will teach biochemistry lecture and lab and will also contribute to the teaching of introductory level courses in organic and/or general chemistry, depending on background and interests. The candidate will have the opportunity to develop advanced courses in the candidate's area of specialty. A commitment to excellent teaching in a culturally diverse environment is expected. Development of a strong research program in some area of biochemistry (including bioorganic, bioinorganic and chemical biology) that complements current research within the department and that involves undergraduate and MS-level research students is also expected.

A Ph.D. in chemistry, biochemistry, or a closely related field is expected (ABD considered) with postdoctoral experience preferred. We seek someone with the potential to be an outstanding teacher/scholar and who contributes to advancing diversity efforts within the sciences. Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, description of research interests, statement of teaching philosophy, and the names and contact information for three references through <http://careers.bucknell.edu/cw/en-us/job/493786/open-rank-tenure-track-in-biochemistry>. Review of applications will begin on October 6, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the search committee chair, Molly McGuire, mmcguire@bucknell.edu.

Bucknell University, an Equal Opportunity Employer, believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. We seek candidates who are committed to Bucknell's efforts to create a climate that fosters the growth and development of a diverse student body, and we encourage applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education.

Bucknell University is a private, highly selective, unique national University where liberal arts and strong professional programs in engineering, business, education and music complement each other. Located in Central Pennsylvania along the Susquehanna River, Bucknell is nestled in the Borough of Lewisburg, an architectural gem that has been ranked as one of America's best small towns. The Lewisburg area offers a unique combination of outdoor recreation opportunities, and appealing amenities such as art galleries, an art deco theater, historic museums, and charming independent boutiques and restaurants. In addition to the many cultural and athletic events offered by the University and the Borough, the surrounding region offers outstanding schools, medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. For those who crave the city, Bucknell is within an easy three-hour drive to Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.
