

The College of Wooster: Faculty: Chemistry
Assistant Professor of Chemistry - Analytical Chemistry
Location: Wooster, OH
Application Review Begins: October 1, 2016

The College of Wooster invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Chemistry to begin August 2017. Primary teaching responsibilities include advanced courses and labs in analytical chemistry and instrumental analysis, as well as general chemistry and participation in the College's First Year Seminar Program. The development of a rigorous undergraduate research program in an area of analytical chemistry, and participation in The College's Senior Independent Study Thesis Research Program, is expected. The successful applicant will have a Ph.D. by the time of appointment, those with post-doctoral research and teaching experience preferred. Applicants from all fields of analytical chemistry will be considered. Those with expertise in mass spectrometry, environmental chemistry, or other areas that might contribute to the Environmental Studies Program are particularly encouraged to apply. The College of Wooster enrolls a diverse student body (19% domestic students of color and 10% international students); applicants should have experience with diverse student populations.

The College of Wooster invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Chemistry to begin August 2017. Primary teaching responsibilities include advanced courses and labs in analytical chemistry and instrumental analysis, as well as general chemistry and participation in the College's First Year Seminar Program. The development of a rigorous undergraduate research program in an area of analytical chemistry, and participation in The College's Senior Independent Study Thesis Research Program, is expected. The successful applicant will have a Ph.D. by the time of appointment, those with post-doctoral research and teaching experience preferred. Applicants from all fields of analytical chemistry will be considered. Those with expertise in mass spectrometry, environmental chemistry, or other areas that might contribute to the Environmental Studies Program are particularly encouraged to apply. The College of Wooster enrolls a diverse student body (19% domestic students of color and 10% international students); applicants should have experience with diverse student populations.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts, statement on contributions to diversity in the classroom and/or curriculum, summary of research plans, and a one-page statement describing interest in teaching and supervising research in an undergraduate liberal arts setting. Three letters of recommendation should also be provided under separate cover. Application materials should be submitted via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/36479>). Questions about the position may be directed to Dr. Paul Edmiston, (pedmiston@wooster.edu). Review of applications begins October 1, 2016, and will continue until an appointment is made. The College of Wooster is an independent college of the liberal arts and sciences with a commitment to excellence in undergraduate education. The College values diversity, strives to attract qualified women and minority candidates, and encourages individuals belonging to these groups to apply. Wooster seeks to ensure diversity by its policy of employing persons without regard to age, sex, color, race, creed, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or political affiliation. The College of Wooster is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Employment is subject to federal laws requiring verification of identity and legal right to work in the United States as required by the Immigration Reform and Control Act. Drug-free workplace.