

Lecturer in General Chemistry

The Department of Chemistry at the University of Georgia seeks to hire a Lecturer, non-tenure track, faculty position. A PhD in Chemistry is required. The lecturer will teach in the department's General Chemistry programs. The starting date for this position is August 1, 2021.

Candidates should electronically submit a cover letter describing their interest and qualifications, a vita, and a description of their teaching philosophy to <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/173778>. The names and contact information for three individuals, who will serve as references, are also required. Evaluation of applications will begin on March 25, 2021. Applications received by April 26, 2021, will receive full consideration. Questions related to the position may be directed to the search committee chair, Prof. Suzanne Ellenberger (sre13137@uga.edu). Persons needing accommodations or assistance with the accessibility of materials related to this search are encouraged to contact Central HR (hrweb@uga.edu). Please do not contact the department or search committee with such requests.

The University of Georgia (www.uga.edu) is a land and sea grant institution located 60 miles northeast of Atlanta (www.visitathensga.com). The University of Georgia is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, gender identity, sexual orientation or protected veteran status. The Franklin College of Arts and Sciences, its many units, and the University of Georgia are committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and students and sustaining a work and learning environment that is inclusive. Women, minorities, and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply.