The Department of Chemistry is seeking to fill multiple Professional Track Teaching positions.

Teaching responsibilities for these positions can include lecture courses at the undergraduate level in General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, Analytical Chemistry, and Physical Chemistry. Teaching responsibilities may also include the coordination of (TA supported) laboratory courses in General Chemistry, Organic Chemistry, and Analytical Chemistry.

Rank is commensurate with education & experience.

Responsibilities of Lecturer/Teaching Assistant Professor: These positions will primarily instruct lecture and laboratory courses as determined by Departmental scheduling.

Course responsibility involves the following:

- presenting engaging course content that fulfills student learning outcomes
- developing appropriate assessments (exams, quizzes, homework)
- grading assessments with TA support
- holding office hours
- preparing content for and coordinating TA activities for recitation sections
- maintaining an up-to-date course platform (e.g. Moodle)
- creating assignments in learning management systems
- determining and posting course grades
- oversight and management of the chemistry demonstration room (supports Departmental instruction)
- coordinating TA activities and safety oversight in General, Organic, and Analytical Chemistry laboratory courses

Candidates with experience teaching in an online format are also desired. They will devote their time to the education of undergraduates, and will report to the Department Head.

Outside of teaching, faculty are expected to serve on Departmental committees and serve as academic advisors to undergraduate Chemistry majors.
