

PROFESSOR (Assistant Professor)
Department of Chemistry
ARTS AND SCIENCE
New York University

The Department of Chemistry at New York University (NYU) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in Chemical Biology, subject to administrative and budgetary approval. The successful applicant is anticipated to be appointed as Assistant Professor. Successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in chemistry or related field and demonstrate the potential to do pioneering research and teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The Department of Chemistry is continuing a significant growth plan, including the creation of the Biomedical Chemistry Institute, the Molecular Design Institute, and the addition of numerous senior and junior faculty members. The exciting new Chemical Biology Initiative includes the addition of more than 60,000 square feet of new research space. Interested faculty are able to participate in significant interdisciplinary programs within the Washington Square campus, as well as with NYU's engineering and medical schools, and scholarly activities at its campuses in Shanghai and Abu Dhabi.

Candidates should submit a curriculum vita, a detailed description of research plans and interests, and a statement of teaching experience and interests. Because diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, we request that you include a paragraph in your cover letter telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past, present, and future teaching, research, and community engagement (additional information can be found here <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html>).

The application should also include three letters of recommendation. Review of complete applications will be done on a rolling basis, beginning October 15, 2021. The earliest anticipated start date is September 1, 2022. Please submit applications through the following link <http://apply.interfolio.com/92284>.
