

Assistant Professor of Chemistry

The College of St. Scholastica invites applications for chemistry faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2020. The successful applicant will contribute to the general chemistry sequence, and other courses as appropriate. Interest in teaching in our new online MS Chemistry program is desirable. The individual hired will be expected to demonstrate excellence in teaching, foster a culture of inclusion in the classroom, participate in faculty committee work, and contribute to the department. The department values diversity among its faculty and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. This position is a 9-month, full-time, non-tenure track appointment, with the potential of conversion to tenure-track in the future. Applications received by April 8 will receive priority consideration.

A Ph.D in chemistry, or a closely related field, demonstrated success working with diverse populations, cross-cultural communication skills, and multicultural competency is required. College teaching experience and experience with online pedagogy in science is preferred.

THE COLLEGE:

The College of St. Scholastica is a thriving independent private college with its main campus overlooking Lake Superior in Duluth, extended campuses throughout Minnesota and vibrant online programs that attract learners from around the world. Since 1912, The College of St. Scholastica (CSS) has been preparing students for responsible living and meaningful work by emphasizing the Catholic Benedictine values upon which it was founded: Community, Hospitality, Respect, Stewardship and Love of Learning. At CSS, equity and inclusion are viewed as key ingredients to academic excellence and student success.

The College serves an enrollment of approximately 4,000 students in undergraduate and graduate degree programs throughout six schools— nursing, arts and letters, business and technology, education, health sciences, and sciences. U.S. News & World Report consistently ranks CSS among the best colleges and universities in the region for academic excellence and in 2018 Money magazine included St. Scholastica as a top “best colleges for your money” based on educational quality, affordability and alumni earnings.
