

CHEMISTRY: Open Position

Assistant Professor (tenure track)

The Department of Chemistry at Tufts University is seeking a tenure-track assistant professor. All areas of chemistry will be considered for this position. The department is a well-funded and accomplished community of researchers who are committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion in our teaching and research missions. Excellent resources are available, particularly for interdisciplinary research in chemistry. Teaching responsibilities will include graduate and undergraduate courses in chemistry related to the candidate's field of research. Additional information about the department can be found at <http://chem.tufts.edu>.

Qualifications: a Ph.D. in Chemistry or related field, a demonstrated potential to develop an internationally recognized research program, and excellence in teaching.

All application materials are submitted via Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/94037. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, research plan, teaching statement, a statement on diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice, and three letters of recommendation. Please arrange for the confidential letters of recommendation to be uploaded directly to Interfolio by your references.

Evaluation of candidates will begin October 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions about the position may be directed to Justin Cronin, Chemistry Department Manager, at justin.cronin@tufts.edu.
