The UCLA Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry (http://www.chemistry.ucla.edu) is seeking outstanding candidates for tenure-track and tenured faculty positions at the level of Assistant, Associate, and Full Professor. All candidates that fit the department's mission and working in any field of Biochemistry are encouraged to apply. Please see https://bmsb.chem.ucla.edu/. The successful applicants at the Assistant level will be expected to develop strong and creative research programs and to contribute to teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Applicants at the Associate and Full levels are expected to have demonstrated excellence in all areas, including leadership. The University of California Los Angeles and the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports diversity, equity and inclusion. Ph.D. required.

All applications must be uploaded through UCLA Academic Recruit.

Candidates should provide a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a list of publications, a summary of research accomplishments (1-2 pages) and future research plans (3 pages max.), teaching statement, and statement of contribution to diversity. In addition, candidates for the Assistant Professor level position should arrange for at least 3 letters of reference to be uploaded to UCLA Academic Recruit.

The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry will begin reviewing materials and applications on November 15, 2022. Final application submission deadline is November 30, 2022.

As a campus with a diverse student body, we encourage applications from all individuals. Preferred candidates will also demonstrate a track record of and continued commitment to mentoring of students from underrepresented and historically marginalized communities in the sciences. Candidates may also demonstrate an active interest in campus-wide or departmental programs that provide research and professional development opportunities for a diverse student body. Statements addressing these topics should be included as part of the defined Contributions to Equity, Diversity and inclusion.

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community dedicated the advancement, application, and transmission of knowledge and creative endeavors through academic excellence, where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in a safe and secure environment, free of violence, harassment, bullying and other demeaning behavior, discrimination, exploitation, intimidation. With this commitment as well as a commitment to addressing all forms of academic misconduct, UCLA conducts targeted employment reference checks for finalists to whom departments or other hiring units would like to extend formal offers of appointment into Academic Senate faculty positions. The targeted employment reference checks involve contacting the finalists' current and prior places of employment to ask whether there have been substantiated findings of misconduct that would violate the University's Faculty Code of Conduct. To implement this process, UCLA requires all applicants for Academic Senate faculty positions to complete sign and upload the form entitled "Authorization to Release Information" into Recruit as part of their application. If the applicant does not include the signed authorization to release information with the application materials, the application will be considered incomplete. As with any incomplete application, the application will not receive further consideration. Although all applicants for faculty recruitments must complete the entire application, only finalists (i.e., those to whom the department or other hiring unit would like to extend a formal offer) considered for Academic Senate faculty positions will be subject to targeted employment reference checks.
