

Lecturer
Department of Chemistry
University of Massachusetts Amherst

The Department of Chemistry (www.chem.umass.edu) invites applications for a nine month, full-time, non-tenure track Lecturer position (renewable up to three years) starting fall semester 2019. The Lecturer will be expected to perform the duties of a lead instructor of general chemistry (lecture and/or lab). This position will have a teaching load of 2 undergraduate lecture and/or laboratory courses per semester. The candidate would be expected to teach general chemistry lecture, and work in conjunction with the general chemistry lab director. The initial appointment is for one year with a two-year renewal upon a successful performance review after twelve months. The candidate should have a strong commitment to outstanding teaching. Involvement in the ongoing research activities in the department is not necessary but is strongly encouraged.

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in chemistry or related area before the start date.

Special Instruction to Applicants:

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion (identifying past experiences and future goals), and the names and contact information of three references to: <http://careers.umass.edu/amherst/en-us/job/499868/lecturer-ntt>

Apply by July 12, 2019 in order to ensure priority consideration. This position may remain open until a suitable candidate pool has been identified. Questions can be directed to the Search Committee Chair at facultysearch@chem.umass.edu.
